NOTICE

As per the malpractice prevention rules of SJC (Autonomous) as well as SJU which were passed in the academic councils of both SJC (Autonomous) and SJU, "Revealing the identity of the candidate" is considered malpractice. These rules are posted on the examination section notice board and the same was mentioned in the "Instructions to the Candidates" for October 2022 Examinations. The note on the facing sheet of the answer booklet instructs the student not to write the registration number in the answer book. Irrespective of all this information, a few students had written their registration number in the odd semester examinations answer book. This violates the University rule and was referred to the malpractice prevention committee for further action. The committee in turn has recommended canceling that paper as per the rule and the VC has approved the same. Students are hereby advised not to reveal their identity by writing any extra note(s) or their registration number in the semester examination theory answer sheet. Anyone violating this rule will be booked for malpractice in the upcoming examinations also.
